

Daher announces two new management appointments for its business activity and the company's Executive Committee

Paris, January 9, 2024

Daher is pleased to announce two top management appointments for the leadership of its business activity, involving personalities from within the company who already have been very involved in the implementation of its "Take Off 2027" strategic plan. These managers also are joining the Daher Executive Committee:

- Cédric Eloy takes charge of the Industrial Services Division and joins the Daher Executive Committee, effective January 1, 2024;
- Aymeric Daher will lead the Logistics Division and is to join the Daher Executive Committee, as of February 1, 2024.

Cédric Eloy heads up the Industrial Services Division and joins the Daher Executive Committee

Graduated with a master's degree in chemistry from the ENSCM (l'école nationale supérieure de chimie de Montpellier) in 2007 and with an MBA in marketing and innovation from the EM Lyon business school in 2008, Cédric Eloy began his career as a strategy consultant at D&Consultants in 2009.

He joined Daher in 2011, initially serving as Marketing Manager through 2015, then becoming the Director of Innovation until 2017, followed by his appointment as the Vice President of Innovation Strategy based in San Francisco through 2020. He continued his development within Daher as the Deputy General Manager of Technology from 2020.

In 2023, Cédric Eloy became the Managing Director of France's AAA (Assistance Aéronautique et Aérospatiale) following Daher's acquisition of this company with the ambition of becoming the benchmark player in industrial services in France and a leading player globally. Drawing on his expertise acquired within Daher, he is leading the strategic "services" axis of the company's "Take Off 2027" plan.

He was promoted to take charge of the Industrial Services Division, effective January 1, 2024, and joined the Daher Executive Committee.

Aymeric Daher will take the helm of Daher’s Logistics Division and is to be integrated in the Daher Executive Committee

Aymeric Daher graduated from the University of Valencia in Spain in 2004, and earned an MBA from the Indian Institute of Management Kozhikode (IMKK) located in Calcutta, India in 2008; followed by a master's degree in Management and Entrepreneurship during 2009 from the ESCP Paris business school.

He began his career at BNP Paribas in 2010 as a Business Analyst in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates, through 2011, then as a Credit Analyst in Paris until 2013.

In 2013, he joined the Daher family business in the Logistics Division as Project Manager, becoming the Director of Operations at the company’s Le Bourget, France site in 2015, and then headed logistics contracts and key accounts until 2017.

From January 2018 to December 2021, he successively was the Director of Logistics and Industrial Services Sales, then the Director of Aerostructures Sales.

Since September 2021, Aymeric Daher has been Vice President of Strategy, Mergers & Acquisitions and Client Relations at Daher, with a key role in leading the company's strategy for its five-year “Take Off 2027” strategic plan and overseeing major acquisitions in the aerospace sector.

On February 1, 2024, Aymeric Daher will become Director of the company’s Logistics Division and will join the Daher Executive Committee.
